

How does a Freedom Medical Alarm work?

When help is needed

A fall, unusual pain, accident or medical emergency happens when you're at home or out and about.

Press the button

You press the button on the neck, wrist, or GPS pendant you're wearing.

You are connected

Now you are being connected to the emergency ambulance communications centre and they will speak to you through your device.

Help is on the way

Advice is given or an ambulance is dispatched to your home depending on the situation.

New Zealand's Trusted Medical Alarms Provider

Choosing a Freedom Medical Alarm means you're directly connected to highly trained emergency call takers at the push of a button. If you or someone you care about is living at home with a medical condition, a Freedom Medical Alarm provides reassurance that help and support is immediately accessible, even if the phone is out of reach. Now that's peace of mind!

Freedom Medical Alarms is an accredited supplier of medical alarms for the Ministry of Social Development. We abide by the Ministry's service level agreement in relation to the supply of medical alarms in New Zealand. Freedom Medical Alarms is a member of Telecare Services Association New Zealand (TSANZ).

Freedom from worry could be fully funded

Freedom Medical Alarms is a Work and Income New Zealand (WINZ) accredited supplier, approved by the Ministry of Social Development (MSD). You could get the medical alarm system fully funded, provided you are eligible for the Disability Allowance.

If you are not eligible, you can pay for them privately. This includes installation, the lease of the equipment, the monitoring and maintenance of the alarm.

Find out if you are eligible by visiting the MSD website, or better yet, talk to a specialist from the Freedom Medical Alarms team who will explain to you in detail about the criteria and any other questions you have.

No extra charge for your partner or companion at home

Only applicable for the home based unit and in-home range. Not applicable to the GO Pendant.

Live life in freedom

Freedom Medical Alarms are built here in Aotearoa New Zealand by 100% Kiwi-owned company Chiptech, a leading force in medical technology. There are a variety of devices to choose from and after a complimentary consultation with a specialist, you can find the right device that best suits you or your loved one's needs.
